

COOKIE POLICY

BGL BNP Paribas pays close attention to your expectations and seeks to earn your trust. For that reason, we want to provide you with clear information about our policy on sending cookies from this website to your device insofar as your personal information is concerned.

What is a cookie?

Cookies are small text, image or software files that are placed and stored on your computer, smartphone or any other internet-enabled device when you visit a website. Cookies are very useful because they allow a website to recognise you, log your movements from page to page, and thus provide an additional service: improving your browsing experience, providing a secure connection and tailoring page content to your interests.

The information contained in cookies is stored for a limited period of time. It relates to your page visits, any advertisements you may have clicked on, the type of browser you are using, your IP address, and the information you have provided to the site (this avoids having to re-enter your data).

Types of cookies used:

Statistical Cookies (for the myWealth website and app):

These cookies allow us to adapt the website to visitor requirements, measure the number of visits, the number of pages viewed, what visitors do on the site and how often they return to it. This website/application uses Adobe Analytics for statistical purposes. However, your IP address has been abbreviated to guarantee your anonymity. These cookies are used to compile traffic analysis statistics, which serve to improve the content of our website/application depending on the success of particular content with our visitors.

Language cookie (for the myWealth website):

This cookie enables us to provide visitors with information in their own language. This cookie provides visitors with information in their preferred language by memorising and reloading the last version of the site viewed by the visitor.

Technical Cookies and Functionality Cookies (for the myWealth website and app):

These cookies are essential to enable you to browse our website and make the best use of its various functions. These are cookies designed to secure your connection, ensuring your identification on your personal space/account where applicable and subsequently, when your secure session enabling you to access your online account remains open for some time. These cookies ensure that your browsing experience is smooth and tailored to your needs. These cookies are sent exclusively by BGL BNP Paribas.

Advertising Cookies (for the myWealth website):

These cookies enable us to better understand your interests, particularly through your browsing on our site, and to send you personalised advertising tailored to your expectations. Refusing these cookies has no impact on the use of our site. However, refusing advertising cookies will not stop advertising during your browsing. It will only have the effect of displaying advertisements that do not take your centres of interest or preferences into account.

Cookies placed by advertising agencies enable anonymous identification of Internet users. The browsing data collected is non-personally identifiable information such as the URLs of visited pages, the keywords used in search engines or interactions with advertisements.

Concerning the use of social networks by users of the site

Our site may include application buttons enabling users to share content from our site or their opinions via social networks. These include 'share', 'like' and 'tweet' buttons from social networks such as Facebook, X (formerly Twitter), etc.

Once you are connected on your device to the social network(s) concerned, such application buttons are able to identify you, even if you do not use them when visiting our site. In addition, if you interact with these buttons while connected to this/these social network(s), for example by clicking on the 'like' button or leaving a comment, the corresponding information will be transmitted to the social network and published on your profile. We invite you to consult the privacy protection policies of these social networks in order to find out how the browsing information they may collect through these application buttons is used, particularly for advertising purposes.

If you do not want the social network to identify you or link the information collected via our site to your user account, you must first log out of the social network.
